Thank you for downloading this file.

I produced this file for you, probably while nursing my youngest and in between answering math questions for my older kids. I'm a homeschooling mother with 5 kids and creating these printables for you is not only relaxing for me, it has become a way for me to help contribute to the family income.

I thank you deeply for your support.

I use graphics from a variety of places to create these activities.
Scrappin' Doodles is a favorite and is likely used in this one.
I also source beautiful work from Vecteezy.com

About Copyright

All of my printables are for PERSONAL USE ONLY.
That means you can use it for your family. If you think a friend would enjoy it too, please send them to the post where you saw this printable. (Please, do not link directly to the PDF. Thank you) Supporting my copyrights helps to keep me creating. If you see one of my printables being shared in a way it shouldn't be, please email me to let me know.

About Printing

All of the files I create are saved in a way to keep the print quality high while keeping the file size as low as possible. This means that if there were ever a time to use your printer at it's good or best quality, printables from LLL are worth it. You won't see fuzzy lines or extra pixels in a halo around the graphics. You'll get crisp, clear prints.

I truly hope you enjoy this file and if you do, please consider stopping by the blog where you found it and leaving a comment.
