January 2, 1788 Georgia Becomes a State

Nicknamed the "Empire State of the South" and the "Peach State," Georgia was the last of the original thirteen colonies to be founded. It wasted no time moving into first place in several areas through its history. The University of Georgia was the first state-supported university in the United States to be given a charter, and Georgia became the first state to have a woman serve in the United States Senate. It was also the first state to give the right to vote to 18-year-olds. Georgia is also said to have had the first-known newspaper in the United States published in a Native American language. Georgia is the state with the largest land area east of the Mississippi River. It is important as an agricultural, timber, and manufacturing state in the economy of the country. Marble from Georgia has been used in the building of the capitols of many states and was used in the building of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. Many famous people are from Georgia, including Margaret Mitchell, Martin Luther King, Jr., Jackie Robinson, Ty Cobb, Clarence Thomas, Jimmy Carter, Alexander Stephens, Truett Cathy, and Ellen Wilson.

Look at the map of Georgia below. Label the capital of Georgia. Locate the cities of Augusta, Columbus, Savannah, Athens, Macon, Warm Springs, Brunswick, Toccoa, Dawsonville, Cartersville, Rome, Valdosta, Jesup, Calhoun, Chatsworth, LaGrange, Dalton, and Bainbridge, and label them on the map. Now label the Appalachian Mountains, Blue Ridge Mountain Range, Stone Mountain, Brasstown Bald Mountain (Mount Enotah), Eagle Mountain, and Cowpen Mountain. Also, locate the Suwannee River, Altamaha River, Chattahoochee River, Flint River, Savannah River, Etowah River, Oconee River, Allatoona Lake, Hartwell Lake, J. Strom Thurmond Lake, Lake Sidney Lanier, Lake Seminole, Lake Sinclair, Lake Oconee, and the Okefenokee Swamp, and label them. Lastly, label the states, provinces, or bodies of water that border Georgia. When you have finished, move on to the timeline of Georgia history on the next page and the research prompts that follow.

Research Prompt #2

Beginning around 1744, the colony of Georgia struggled financially under the leadership of the Trustees. However, some of the non-English settlers were faring relatively well in their agricultural pursuits. What do you think caused the difference? Although slavery had not been allowed in the Georgia colony in the beginning, the move to allow it grew, with slavery finally being approved in 1751. Do you think slavery was the answer to success? Do you define success as financial or moral? Give your thoughts.
