

How to Use

This United States Presidents Compare and Contrast Notebook is designed to help students research and discover the life and impact of each President. To get started, students need to fill out the three pages that include research questions and room to record facts about each President's personal life, term(s) served, domestic issues he faced, and international issues he faced as well as other events in U.S. and world history that happened during his term(s).

The second assignment is to complete two Venn diagrams that illustrate some of the similarities and differences between the two Presidents. The first deals with the information students recorded for personal information and term(s). They can fill out the diagram with as much of the information learned as desired. For example, Thomas Jefferson was a planter and a lawyer; James Madison was a lawyer. Both were born in Virginia. Jefferson served 4 years; Madison served 8 years. Both were Democrat-Republicans. The second Venn diagram highlights domestic and international issues the President faced. For example, both Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy faced issues concerning civil rights. Eisenhower faced the Korean War; Kennedy faced the Cuban missile crisis.

The third assignment is to draw a picture of one of the Presidents or something that he is remembered for (such as a policy, a U.S. or world history event, etc.).

The final assignment is for students to create four flashcards that can help them remember key events from U.S. and world history that happened during the President's term(s).

A blank set of worksheets is included at the end of the unit so a student may choose to compare any two Presidents of their choice, regardless of whether they served consecutively, such as comparing George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.
