Daniel Boone

“All you need for happiness is a good gun, a good horse, and a good wife.”

“Soon after, I returned home to my family, with a determination to bring them as soon as possible to live in Kentucky, which I esteemed a second paradise, at the risk of my life and fortune.”

“One day I undertook a tour through the country, and the diversity and beauties of nature I met with in this charming season, expelled every gloomy and vexatious thought.”

“Nature was here a series of wonders, and a fund of delight.”

“Most of the memorable events I have myself been exercised in;
and, for the satisfaction of the public, will briefly relate the circumstances of my adventures, and scenes of life, from my first movement to this country until this day.”

“I have never been lost, but I will admit to being confused for several weeks.”

“I had gained the summit of a commanding ridge, and, looking round with astonishing delight, beheld the ample plains, the beauteous tracts below.”

“I was happy in the midst of dangers and inconveniences.”

“In such a diversity it was impossible I should be disposed to melancholy.”
